ENVIRONMENT POLICY

Australian Lining Company is committed to environmental protection and it is required that all employees and workers, customers, suppliers and site visitors cooperate with management to ensure that all activities carried out on site do not adversely impact on the environment.

Australian Lining Company supports and aims to comply with legislation and regulations to ensure environmental protection.

Australian Lining Company is committed to ongoing training of its employees and workers in environmental management, best work practices and safety as required. Emergency procedures have been developed and are in place to handle accidental spillage and prevent or minimize environmental damage and appropriate waste management practices are in place.

New technology, work practices and materials are reviewed by the company, in ways consistent with the conservation of resources and administration of production wastes of all kinds.

Under the direction of management and in consultation with our employees and workers, We will:

- Minimise or eliminate our negative environmental impact and use of resources
- Liaise with and consult relevant third parties and experts to continually improve our work practices and operations
- Encourage the health and safety committee and/or representatives to include environmental best practice in their deliberations
- Regularly monitor and report on our environmental performance as a minimum, comply with legislative, industry and/or customer requirements
- Encourage all employees and workers to take an active, personal role in promoting environmental best practice

This environmental policy will be continually reviewed to maintain the highest possible environmental awareness and addresses policy requirements of ISO14001:2004 Environmental management standard

Signed
